Part B: Reading aloud a text

Score	Pronunciation	Intonation	Fluency and Pausing	Loudness
0	Does not produce anything	Does not produce anything	Does not produce anything	Does not produce anything
1	- Impedes understanding	- Largely inappropriate and impedes meaning	- Broken speech - Pace either too fast or too slow - Pausing mostly inappropriate	Not loud enough
2	- Words mostly mispronounced due to wrong vowels - Problems with consonants (clusters)			Loud enough
3	- Impedes meaning, but not seriously	- Flat but does not impede meaning	- Appropriate pace - Some minor problems with pausing
4	- Vowels mostly correct - Some problems with consonants and consonant clusters
5	- Does not impede meaning	- Appropriate and carries meaning	- Read aloud with ease and confidence - Appropriate pace and pausing
6	- Vowels and consonants mostly correct

Part C: Individual Presentation

Score	Accuracy and Delivery	Ideas and Organization	Communication Strategies
0	Does not produce anything	Does not produce anything	Does not produce anything
1-2	Use some very narrow language patterns and vocabulary in very short utterances Speak with difficulty Pronounce only some simple words accurately	Express occasional and brief ideas relevant to the topic Respond briefly when prompted	Use restricted features of body language when prompted to respond Use only narrowly-restricted formulaic expressions to respond
3-4	Use some basic language patterns and vocabulary Speak with hesitation Pronounce most words well enough to be understood	Express some simple relevant ideas Respond without being prompted	Use appropriate body language to respond Use simple formulaic expressions to respond
5-6	Use appropriate vocabulary and language patterns with no errors that impede meaning Speak with only little or no hesitation Pronounce most or all words clearly, easily understood	Express relevant ideas with elaboration Respond naturally with elaboration	Use appropriate body language to respond and to show attention to the interaction Use appropriate turn-taking skills to initiate and maintain interaction
